STRATEGIC THINKING

1. Analytical®

What Is Analytical?

People with strong Analytical talents challenge others to prove it. They take a critical approach to what others might quickly accept as truth. They search for the reasons why things are the way they are. They want to understand how certain patterns affect one another: how they combine, the outcome and if the result fits with the theory or the situation. Others see them as logical and rigorous. Some might feel that they are negative or unnecessarily critical when they are simply trying to understand something. They bring an objective and dispassionate examination to things enabling them to find the causes and effects, and then developing clear thoughts based on facts.

Why Your Analytical Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Analytical	Strategic	Competition	Focus	Achiever
------------	-----------	-------------	-------	----------

Driven by your talents, you earnestly apply yourself to seeing things as they really are. You bring a practical, matter-of-fact, and unsentimental outlook to various discussions, projects, or planning meetings.

By nature, you may be a no-nonsense person. This partially explains why you spend some of your time thinking about things you could or should review, revise, repair, reorganize, or do better.

It's very likely that you really and truly hear what people have to say. Your natural inclination to evaluate information from a variety of sources and angles explains your attentiveness. Frequently you find subtle insights in what someone tells you — insights of which even that person is unaware. You enjoy bringing these discoveries to that person's attention.

Instinctively, you possess the resourcefulness needed to complete whatever you commit to doing. Your ability to reason through things usually helps you find ways around problems and obstacles.

Chances are good that you periodically feel restless until you have collected enough insights to thoughtfully examine certain kinds of abstract concepts, theories, or ideas. This may be one reason why you are attracted to specific people. Perhaps they engage in intelligent conversations. Possibly they refrain from casual chit-chat or meaningless small talk.

How Analytical Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

ANALYTICAL + STRATEGIC

Your mind can find a way through a multiplicity of future options and find truth in the complexity of a present reality.

ANALYTICAL + COMPETITION

For you, victory can't be confirmed by emotions. The proof of a real victory is found in scores or metrics.

ANALYTICAL + FOCUS

You are aware of all the contributing factors in a situation. But at the same time, you can concentrate on the most critical priority.

ANALYTICAL + ACHIEVER

Your mind works overtime to understand how something works, and your hands work overtime to get something accomplished.

Apply Your Analytical to Succeed

Find ways to express and put your thoughts into action.

- ☐ Find credible data and facts to help support your thinking. Use these sources of information to reinforce your thought process when talking with others.
- ☐ Provide simple, logical and objective advice to the people that matter most to you. Your ability to uncover the essential facts can transform complex situations into understandable actions.

STRATEGIC THINKING

2. Strategic®

What Is Strategic?

People with strong Strategic talents can sort through the clutter to find the best route. You can't teach this skill. It is a distinct way of thinking — a unique perspective on the world at large. This outlook allows them to see patterns where others see complexity. Mindful of these patterns, they envision alternative scenarios, always asking, "What if this happened?" This recurring question helps them see, plan and prepare for future situations. They see a way when others assume there is no way. Armed with this strategy, they move forward.

Why Your Strategic Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Analytical	Strategic	Competition	Focus	Achiever
------------	-----------	-------------	-------	----------

Because of your strengths, you think through different scenarios to identify outcomes and to plan potential responses. You excel at imagining how a project or interaction could fail, and then you work backward to determine what could both cause and prevent failure.

Instinctively, you sometimes step back to look at what is in front of you. Your mind naturally sorts through confusion to find possibilities, so you allow yourself to watch for connections that might emerge.

It's very likely that you may generate numerous ways to enhance, upgrade, revise, correct, or revamp certain processes, action plans, or itineraries. Sometimes your suggestions influence how a project will unfold in the coming months, years, or decades. You might find fault with your own or another person's talents, skills, or knowledge. To some extent, fixing people or things ranks in the top half of your list of favorite activities.

Chances are good that you may be known for your ease with language. Perhaps this ability serves you well when you need to talk with newcomers or outsiders. Your vocabulary might allow you to tell stories or express your ideas with clarity.

Driven by your talents, you now and then demonstrate an ability to express your ideas in the presence of historians. This may occur when you are discussing historical events or telling stories about interesting people from the past.

How Strategic Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

STRATEGIC + ANALYTICAL

Your mind can find a way through a multiplicity of future options and find truth in the complexity of a present reality.

STRATEGIC + COMPETITION

Contests can be physical or financial, but your victories are conceptual as you outwit and outguess your opponents.

STRATEGIC + FOCUS

Your mind is open to considering multiple options. But once you have chosen an option, those you have not chosen become invisible to you.

STRATEGIC + ACHIEVER

If at first you don't succeed, you try again. If you try again and still don't succeed, you consider your options and try one.

Apply Your Strategic to Succeed

Think ahead to gain perspective.

- ☐ Take time to fully plan your path forward. While you easily see patterns where others see complexity, it is important to make time to envision these alternative scenarios.
- ☐ Practice explaining your decision-making process before talking with others. Doing this ensures people know you have considered different options and opinions to inform your decision.

INFLUENCING

3. Competition®

What Is Competition?

Competition is rooted in comparison. For people with strong Competition talents, their performance is their ultimate yardstick. When they look at the world, they are instinctively aware of other people’s performance. They aspire to be the best and will work hard to excel — especially when compared with others. It’s not about the effort; it’s about the win. Regardless of effort or intention, even if they reach their goal, their achievement will feel hollow if they did not outperform their peers. They need to compare. If they can compare, they can compete, and if they can compete, they can win.

Why Your Competition Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

------------	-----------	-------------	-------	----------

It’s very likely that you routinely choose to participate in selected tournaments, games, rivalries, or matches. Why? They provide you with ample opportunities to compare your results to those that others produce. You customarily aim for the top award from the outset. You have no interest in secondary titles or prizes.

Instinctively, you embody the adage: “If you want to get something done, ask a busy person.” You deliver peak performances when you can tackle a task. You experience tremendous satisfaction each time you accomplish something. You probably like being held accountable for your actions and words.

Driven by your talents, you can occasionally outwit or outmaneuver people when you invest some time getting to know them as individuals.

Because of your strengths, you undoubtedly outwit or outmaneuver most of your rivals. You aim to distinguish yourself as the champion. Your fear of losing likely fuels your desire to be victorious.

By nature, you feel much more favorable about yourself and life in general when you are functioning at an optimal level. Being “number one” or named the best usually motivates you to do more and better work in the coming hours, days, weeks, or months.

COMPETITION + FOCUS

Intent on reaching your goal, you concentrate on the outcome. Intent on winning, you also pay attention to others pursuing it.

COMPETITION + ACHIEVER

Your drive to complete things comes from within, and your drive to win comes from comparing yourself with those around you.

Apply Your Competition to Succeed

Identify scores against which you can measure your achievements.

- ☐ Measure your success in your most important tasks. Ask those around you for feedback to ensure you are not sacrificing relationships for the sake of winning.
- ☐ Find someone you admire to use as a standard for success. Comparing your progress against theirs will give you a measurement for winning you can be proud of.

EXECUTING

4. Focus®

What Is Focus?

People with strong Focus talents prioritize and then take action. They set goals that serve as their compass, helping them determine priorities and make alterations when needed to get back on course. Their Focus is powerful because it forces them to filter; they instinctively evaluate each action before taking it to decide whether it will help them reach their goal. In the end, strong Focus talents push them to be efficient. They are extremely valuable team members because their single-mindedness enhances the speed and quality of their performance and keeps the team on track.

Why Your Focus Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Analytical	Strategic	Competition	Focus	Achiever
------------	-----------	-------------	-------	----------

It’s very likely that you periodically devote your energy, intellect, or time to making improvements in yourself or in what you do. Perhaps you concentrate on your shortcomings. Maybe you feel this approach increases your chances of reaching certain goals in the future.

Driven by your talents, you really push yourself to be the best. You typically gain an advantage whenever you can dictate how the game will be played or how a project will be organized. You characteristically prefer to be the person in charge of your life.

By nature, you may recognize you have a bit more stick-to-itiveness — that is, dogged determination — than certain people have. This might be apparent to you and others when you are starting or finishing specific kinds of tasks.

Instinctively, you act like a rival when you are pitted against others and only one person can be declared the very best at something. Your deep-seated desire to finish in first place probably drives many of your choices and explains much of your behavior.

Chances are good that you intend to govern events and manage activities. You want to be in charge of your life. You frequently pause to think about what you need to upgrade or perfect. You consistently generate good ideas for doing things better.

FOCUS + COMPETITION

Intent on reaching your goal, you concentrate on the outcome. Intent on winning, you also pay attention to others pursuing it.

FOCUS + ACHIEVER

Your goal orientation gives direction to your diligence and helps you prioritize the tasks that you need to accomplish first.

Apply Your Focus to Succeed

Decide what you must do, prioritize and then act.

- ☐ Say no to projects or tasks that do not align with your end goal. While you can't always say no, when you can, it will help you concentrate on your most important priorities.
- ☐ Trust your internal compass to make necessary adjustments as you work toward a goal. You have an instinct that ensures things will not distract you as you work to achieve the desired outcome.

EXECUTING

5. Achiever®

What Is Achiever?

Achievers have a constant need for attainment. They have an internal fire burning inside them. It pushes them to do and achieve more. People with strong Achiever talents feel as if every day starts at zero. By the end of the day, they must accomplish something meaningful to feel good about themselves. And “every day” means every single day: workdays, weekends, holidays and even vacations. If the day passes without some form of achievement, no matter how small, Achievers feel dissatisfied. After finishing a challenging project, they rarely seek with a reward of a rest or an easy assignment. While they appreciate recognition for past achievements, their motivation lies in striving toward the next goal on the horizon.

Why Your Achiever Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

AnalyticalStrategic*Competition*Focus*Achiever

Driven by your talents, you favor activities that require an expenditure of physical energy. Having nothing to do probably saps your energy. Hard work invigorates you.

It's very likely that you occasionally persist to lift the spirits of people of people who feel gloomy. You search for the good in every individual or situation. This upbeat approach allows you to embrace rather than resist life's surprises, disappointments, opportunities, or successes.

Chances are good that you win over individuals once they notice you are intense, diligent, and earnest. You are attracted to people whose work ethic matches your own. This explains why many of them like you and why you like many of them.

By nature, you use your mental and physical energy for hours when the situation demands such effort. You generally persevere and push yourself to keep working on assignments until you finish them. You refuse to quit until you reach your goal.

Instinctively, you probably have a reputation for working hours and hours when the assignment adds special meaning to your work, studies, or life in general.
